

Kansas Prohibition Which Will Prohibit.

Topeka, April 23.—Attorney General F. S. Jackson by securing an injunction against nine foreign brewing companies to prevent their owning property and operating saloons, in obtaining an order for the appointment of receivers for the brewers' property, has taken the most effective measure that has ever been invoked to enforce the prohibitory law in Kansas. He intends to push the crusade to an active conclusion.

Today in an interview he said: "When the receiver is named, he will proceed to locate and take under control all the property of the defendants found in this state. He will thus be able to state the place where defendants are carrying on business in Kansas."

"The property is to be sold and out of the proceeds the court will pay all costs and damages due the state. If necessary the governor will send the militia to enforce order and the defendants will pay the bill. It will not be necessary to do this."

The brewers' property in Kansas consists of warehouses and saloon fixtures valued at many thousands of dollars.

Cobalt, Ontario.

The estimates of the year's output from Cobalt are from 10,000,000 to 12,000,000. The Big Pete is the latest wonder of the camp. At a depth of twenty-five feet ore running as high as 12,000 ounces silver is being sacked for shipment, and the management announces that the distribution of regular dividends will be instituted before the close of the year. It is stated that a settlement relative to the ownership of the Lawson cobalt mines has been reached, whereby John McMartin and other Toronto people retain a three-fourths interest. Miners, prospectors and operators are said to be flocking by the hundreds to the Cobalt and districts to the north. All the hotels at Cobalt and Haileyburg, ten miles above, are daily crowded to their utmost capacity. An indication of the prospecting and locating activities in the Larder lake section, fifty miles to the north of Cobalt, is shown by the fact that since the first claim was staked out last August 4,000 locations have been filed, covering an area of 120,000 acres.—Denver Mining Reporter.

Coronado's Sea Wall.

Coronado's sea wall is rapidly approaching completion. This important piece of work, for which Coronado city bonded itself to the extent of 135,000, was made necessary by the unprecedented storm in March, 1905, when a 60 to 30 feet strip of ocean front, stretching for almost a mile, was washed to sea.

The sea wall when completed will be 400 feet long and it will provide for the construction of a 60 foot boulevard from the hotel to the city limits at the North Island entrance; 67,000 tons of rock and 53,100 tons of back filling are being used.

The work has been done for the city by the Coronado Beach company, with a young Pittsburg civil engineer, W. O. Anderson, in charge, and it is certain that the wall will be completed within two months of the stipulated time, Aug. 1st.—San Diego News.

The March production from Cripple Creek was about 1,300,000, an increase of about 250,000 over the preceding month. This increase is attributed to the success being met with in the treatment of low grade ores at local cyanide plants, notably the Golden Cycle. The figures also show an increase in the value of ores. The total tonnage was over 59,000 tons. The April production should be considerably larger on account of the contemplated operation of several milling plants, including the Portland, Homestake and Jo Dandy. Announcement was also made during the latter part of the month of the decision of the Stratton's Independence Company to erect a large cyanide plant at its Battle Mountain property. Of vital importance to the Cripple Creek camp is the inauguration of work on the drainage tunnel, which, according to specifications of the engineer will have a length of 15,500 feet, dimensions of 7x10 feet, and should be completed in two years' time. Bids for driving the tunnel for its entire length are now being sought, with the intention of soon awarding the contract. A portion of the machinery has already been delivered at the tunnel portal in Gatch park and the balance is on the way.—Denver Mining Reporter.

Copper Gossip.

The Rothschilds have purchased the Beatson group of copper mines on the southern shore of La Touche island, Prince William Sound, Alaska, agreeing to give, it is claimed, 5,000,000, the greatest sum ever paid for a single mining property in the north. The mine has been shipping regularly from 50,000 to 75,000 worth of ore per month.

The Anaconda mine at Butte, Montana, is the largest single producer of copper in the world, leading the Calumet and Hecla of Michigan. Anaconda is selling on the Boston market at 60¢ a share and Calumet and Hecla is selling at 86¢. At first sight one would be led to believe that the latter was much the more valuable stock of the two. It is true that it is a little higher priced, but not so very much when capitalization is considered. Calumet and Hecla has only 100,000 shares of capital stock, the par value of which is 2½ per share, or 2,500,000 for the whole. Anaconda has one million two hundred thousand shares of capital stock, the par value of which is 25¢ per share, making its total capitalization 30,000,000, as against only 2,500,000 for Calumet and Hecla, twelve times as much as the latter. Relatively, Anaconda is worth 720¢ a share compared with 83¢ for Calumet and Hecla.

In the matter of dividends Anaconda is well up with the big Michigan mine. For the year 1906 Calumet and Hecla paid 7,000,000 in dividends and Anaconda paid 6,900,000. If a 25-cent copper market prevails throughout the present year Anaconda will do better than that. It may be relied upon for not less than one hundred million pounds of copper, on which there would be an easy profit of about 16,000,000 of which not less than ten million would go to stock holders. An interesting fact in connection with the Anaconda is that it is the biggest—or believed to be—producer of silver of any mine in the world. The silver in its ore averages three ounces to the ton of rock, with from 1.75¢ to 2¢ in gold per ton. As the Anaconda puts out one and a half million tons of ore a year it is easy to see what a large revenue it derives from its silver and gold, outside of its immensely large copper profits.

Benson Smelter Changes Hands.

The Cochise County Press says that for some time past work of clearing all indebtedness on the Benson smelter plant has been put forth with the result that today the property stands clear of any and all debts whatever. The owners, the Southwestern Smelting Co. have disposed of and turned over all the holdings with a clear title to the Boston & Arizona Smelting company, and is a matter of record. The people composing the new company are among the wealthiest men of Boston and New York, men of business reputation. The company is incorporated under the laws of the state of Nevada, with a capital stock of 2,500,000, divided into 25,000 shares of the par value of 100¢. There is no preferred stock. Actual work of putting the smelter in shape will commence very soon.

M. E. Joseph and William Wilkinson, of Cunningham Pass left yesterday for their homes after passing the title to a promising mining property located by them a year ago to Thomas Kelly of Chicago. The mine is considered one of the best prospects for a large copper producer in the Cunningham Pass district. The location covers a large iron dyke which has been opened by a number of shallow shafts, the deepest of which is only 45 feet deep, in all of which bodies of copper ore exposed. The transfer is considered to be an important one by the miners and prospectors of the district from the fact that Mr. Kelly is a man in the millionaire class who is noted for large operations on his properties and who spares no expense in developing his holdings to great depth. Mr. Kelly is in Chicago at the present time, but he is expected at his newly acquired properties at an early date, when he proposes to start his plan of development, which includes the equipment of the mine with a large hoisting plant and the sinking of the shaft to great depth.—Prescott Journal-Miner.

The Gold Belt Development & Reduction Company shipped a carload of copper ore to the Shannon smelter last week which netted a nice sum.

The shipment consisted of 20 tons which averaged 18.74 per cent copper, amounting to 92.76¢ per ton. There is now great activity at the mines and regular shipments will soon be rolling in to the smelters. Work will be pushed on the copper shaft, as well as the gold shaft. Both department of the company are advancing with exceedingly encouraging results and the Gold Belt is the only company in the Clifton-Morenci district that can boast of good showings in both copper and gold, the copper and gold coming from different mines. During the past week 416 ore sacks have been purchased and shipped to the mines which will be used for the sacking of the rich gold ore already on the dump. The shipment will be made to El Paso smelters as soon as a carload is sacked when it is expected that the company will be in a position to make public a flattering report.—Clifton Copper Era.

Sunday Observance in British Columbia.

The proposed enforcement of the Lord's Day Act by the Provincial government is occasional considerable uneasiness among the mining, smelting and lumbering interests of British Columbia. The act became effective on March 1st, since which date, however, both mining and smelting operations have continued uninterrupted. Its enforcement, as regards mines and smelters, appears to be meeting with vigorous protests from employers and employees alike. Representatives of the mining and lumbering interests of the Nelson and Kootenay districts have petitioned the Premier of the province, asking for a postponement of its effectiveness until an expression of opinion may be secured from all those whose livelihood and business will be directly affected.

This act, if carried out according to the letter, would seriously hamper operations, particularly at metallurgical plants throughout British Columbia. We, therefore, trust that the government will either annul, or so modify, the act that the mineral industry may not suffer.—Denver Mining Reporter.

Hon. John S. Jones is in from the Little Jesse mines. He reports development work still progressing on that property with most satisfactory results. As a result of the recent visit of a party of stockholders to the mines, three mills, with a capacity of 100 tons a day, with a 60 mesh screen, amalgamators and cyanide plant are to be installed in the near future. The manufacturing engineer is expected to arrive in Prescott April 23 when he will proceed to the properties and locate site and prepare plans for the installation of the mills. It is expected to have these mills in operation by next September. They will be so arranged that capacity can be enlarged as demand requires. When these mills are in operation a force of about 100 men will be employed. The Little Jesse properties have a record of producing over 800,000 in gold. The properties are located 18 miles easterly from Prescott.—Courier.
